MY ALIGNED PLATFORM

What is TRULY feasible for you to share your message publicly in terms of frequency?

Do you need to lock this in your calendar to make this an on-going commitment? Do what you need to do to LOCK THIS IN as non-negotiable. You need to commit to YOU, baby!

How does your true tribe like to be spoken to? Is there certain language you need to use {or not}? Do you need to change the way you're currently coming across?

Who are the people who would most benefit from hearing what you've got to share & would love the way YOU communicate it?

Where do you feel your aligned tribe hangs or congregates - whether in terms of online or offline?

When would be the best time for you tap into your growing community to touch base, answer questions or provide value?

What are the pain points for your tribe?

What results do your tribe MOST want?

How can you MOST help your tribe, with heart?

What platforms do you most enjoy using? Where do you like speaking? {Whether that's in real life, written, audio or video}

What's feasible for you in terms of the amount of platforms to share from?

Do you need to outsource help? If so - where will you search and for what specifically?

Is there anything else that's come up from considering sharing your message, who your tribe are and where your 'soapbox' will be?

What can you do today to take you closer to your dream/s?
